

WORLD RIVERS

*Water flows, nourishes, springs forth life and prevents the earth from becoming a desert.
Water is essential for all life. Water is a human need and a human right.*

World Rivers is a global collaboration uniting people through the element of water. Individuals from around the world dip white fabric in selected rivers. The fabric is then sewn together into a magnificent curtain. International participants, like rivers flowing to the ocean, join together to form a larger whole.

~~~~~

TO PARTICIPATE:

1. Contact World Rivers with the name of your river and the participants.
2. Find white fabric of any size.
3. Dip it in river water, document with photos.
4. Send dry fabric to Chicago.
5. Send or email photos.

Personal thoughts, references and facts are welcome.
